This section provides information about UK telephone numbers, and allows communications providers to apply for telephone numbers from the National Numbering Scheme. It also provides information on numbering policy and related guidance. National Telephone Numbering Plan Ofcom publishes a list of UK area codes in the National Telephone Numbering Plan (PDF, 662.0 KB). A number of the definitions in the Numbering Plan have the meanings ascribed to them in the General Conditions of Entitlement. Conditions B1 to B4, C6 and C7 contain provisions particularly relevant to the use of phone numbers. For reference, we have provided a table of recent amendments to the National Telephone Numbering Plan in the section below.
