Monarch DNA Gel Extraction Kit Protocol

Specifications

Sample	Amount	DNA Yield	Purity
Whole blood	200 µl	3 - 6 µg	A _{260/280} > 1.8
Buffy coat	200 µl	15 - 20 µg
Cultured cells	10 ⁴ - 10 ⁶ cells	15 - 20 µg
Mammalian tissue	25 - 50 mg	10 - 15 µg

* Minor differences in the size may be found in the actual product.

Therefore, it is recommended to stabilize urine samples. The success of the QPCR amplification is possible with the isolated DNA of the highest level of purity. Urine: since the cellular DNA circulating in unfair urine samples is rapidly degraded after the sample collection due to the high nuclease activity, the elits may not contain DNA or submit a low concentration of DNA. From purified samples with the DNEASY PowerLier Powersoil Kit several organisms have been detected, including Bacteria Gram (+/-) (for example, Bacillus subtilis, Bacillus anthracis), mushrooms (for example, yeasts, molds), algae and attinomycti (ad Example, ne streptomycetes) and Amatodi. It is strongly recommended to follow the recommendations for the preparation of the sampling material contained in the corresponding protocol form to ensure reliable results. Even when using stabilized urine, it is recommended to perform a centrifugation phase immediately after stabilization to avoid the release of genomic DNA from the cells. Alternatively, unchanged urine samples can be treated immediately after collection and centrifugation using the ATL pretreatment and automated DNA extraction as described in the corresponding protocol tab. It is strongly recommended to follow the recommendations for the preparation of the sampling material contained in the corresponding protocol form to ensure reliable results. The elaborate genetic material is ready for a series of downstream applications, including next-generation sequencing. DNA isolation with DNEASY PowerLier Powersoil Kit can be automated on QiCube Connect.dneasy PowerLier Powersoil kit A f I was previously sold by Mo Bio as PowerLier Powersoil DNA kit. The processing of a wide range of environmental samples, in those with a high content of humic acid, can be carried out effectively and efficiently with this kit.The ball tubes contained in the kit are optimized for ball homogenizers, in particular PowerLyzer 24 homogenizer, also available via QIAGEN. QIAGEN. It is recommended that plasma separation be performed immediately after blood collection when EDTA or citrate is used as an anticoagulant to prevent the release of genomic DNA into the plasma fraction. Using a new inhibitor removal technology, extract microbial DNA from all soil types with the PowSasy Powerlyzer PowSoil kit. Pure microbial genomic DNA can be easily purified from compost, sediments, manure and other environmental samples and successfully amplified by QPCR. qpcpr.
