We offer emergency response services to homes, prioritizing customer safety and comfort. We also ensure our team members' health by taking precautions. When you call, our office staff will ask about fever, diagnosis, or COVID-19 exposure to provide a proactive response. Some team members may not want to be exposed, and we respect their wishes. Others are willing to serve in high-risk situations. In most cases, we can troubleshoot equipment remotely with minimal face-to-face contact. We maintain a safe work environment by social distancing, wearing gloves, and disinfecting areas. You may be asked to control the thermostat via video call. We ask for your cooperation to provide services while protecting everyone. Our number is 865-482-9836. I have a heating problem and I need some recommendations for an HVAC technician who can come out today. My A/C isn't working either. I tried to fix it myself but now it's just not blowing air. It is so hot and uncomfortable in my house. I have been waiting for over two weeks for my landlord to fix the issue, but he keeps saying "on it". I am looking for a good and reliable HVAC company who can work on Sunday too. Maybe someone who can help me find a blower motor or replace the Freon in my system? I want to make sure that whoever comes out is honest and trustworthy. I need some advice because my car has broken down due to overheating, so I am not able to drive far right now. Therefore, I require someone to work near Oak Ridge. It would be great if you could recommend a cheap but good HVAC person who can fix the heating system in my house.
