Android has been around for more than a year, and at that moment the developers whipped some large apps. Whether you are a new Android owner or a pro looking for new tools, these 10 fantastic and free apps belong to your Arsenal.Photo of Lwallenstein. To jump immediately above the apps that are so common, universal, and well replicated on the iPhone or other mobile platforms that a user with a need probably we can do - Facebook, Yelp, Evernote, remembers milk and endless twitter clients, Widget and app. We also skipped on Google's ordered apps, like Google Voice, navigation and glasses, which are (or will) included the standard on new Android phones. Instead, we are aiming to shine a small light on apps that can easily offer excellent functionality for those who download them Searches, off from some comments and emails Andro-savvy.10. Layarin Some ways, this is a vote for the potential of layar as much as the practical application. Walking through your phone and see Wikipedia's subjects, apartments for sale and what Twitter users have delighted through your phone is a rather accurate thing, and potentially useful when you're looking for things to do in a new city. But as Layar continues to add new levels, and how the camera and mobile processing power continue to improve, Layar could become much more interesting than already. One thing worth remembering is that if you don't like the view of the 3D camera, or as the appearance of yourself while you use it, Layar can only show the points of interest on a Google type map. Anyway that you use it, it's an intriguing aspect to what is happening around the corner. FreeThe As Desside tariller at Android multi-tasking is that at times, some apps can become unexpectedly become magni of memory or bandwidth or bring the phone with them when they lock. Few apps provide a direct and easy "chit" option, however, and sometimes you can't get to the To close it. Enter taskiller, a free app murder utility that works from its standard icon, or as a series of numerous widgets you can add to the home screen to save the system with a single click. The free version serves advertisements and lacks some advanced features, but generally serves the needs of anyone who tires you to need to actually reset the phone just to clarify space for, know, phone calls and such. Note: This app must be used as more than a last resort than the regular maintenance tool, killing processes and Willy-Nilly apps can disable alarms, kill background synchronization and have other non-intentional consequences.3. Slidescreenyou uses your Android smartphone differently from your desktop computer. Don't work with files and shortcuts, so that check-in on data flows that interests you - E-mail, text messages, Facebook and Twitter, chats and the like. Slidescreen replaces, or simply increasing, if you wish, the main phone screen, creating line after the message line and feed. Slide the central information bar upwards and down to look more or less of your items, scroll right to dismiss items like beds and finish having all your data on your hand at once. Slidescreen also replaces the standard application tray, offering 8 slots to put your apps most frequently accessible and tuck up all the others in a rolling bridge below. It's a total makeover for your phone, in other words - one that could simply make you fall in love with the concept of mobile data. Shoperokay, at the beginning we were rather skeptical of the application of Google's Shopper, since it only seemed a mashup of his Google glasses and Google's smart-smart apps like Shopsavvy. Then we actually used the shopper, and we were amazed both from what is accurately considered both barcodes and simple hedging shots, and how much it worked very quickly. It turns out, according to a developer who appeared in this week in Google, shopper is actually loading the image data on Google servers as it captures and decodes the barcode on the phone. The speed for the speed sake is beautiful, of course, but it's nice enough not to have to stand in front of a display of a book for a whole two minutes, waving the phone around a group of books you are trying to do the competitive price. The buyer answers the question "I can buy this cheapest", and responds quickly.Android: Google has already got got glasses for visual search and the Google Shopper's mobile site can be run ... Astro File ManagerThis is one of those app app Hope has a bit of attention, if only to be purchased from Google or otherwise integrated into the base phone software. Astro File Manager does a great job to allow you to navigate the files on the SD card and the internal memory accessible, surely, but it also has your own integrated killer task, backing up applications, can send files as e-mail attachments (not everything Easy or intuitive from the mail client, for some reason) and much more. It is the Leatherman of Android utilities and a must-have on any serious Geek phone. To each of them, obviously, but we would like to hear which Android apps consider crucial to your phone in the comments. We tend to free, but if you have found a cheap app that is worth a few dollars, our loving Android readers and developers, they would probably be happy for the referral. Internet has changed the way we thought of fashion. You can buy clothes, bags, accessories and shoes practically anywhere and anywhere. For this reason, shopping for stuff is more fun than it has never been before. People can buy everything they want, wherever they want because everything is online now. If you are shopping for some unique, expensive or elegant objects, here are the best fashion apps for Android. Etsy Hush Issey Pinterest Pinterest Poshmark Sephora Shein Tumblr Your Youtube Etsy wardrobe is one of the most popular independent markets on the internet. It has millions of unique articles of tons and tons of excellent artists and other types of creators. This includes things like jewelry, art, clothing and even occasional furniture. The app also includes Android Pay support, shipping details, communication with shop owners directly through the app and more. It may not follow every new fashion trend in the book. However, something on a kind of type simply loses its charm. The app is completely free and there are some really excellent objects here. Hush is an online market with a focus on beauty products. Its inventory includes various types of makeup, nail polish, skin care products and various instruments such as brushes. The app works like most store apps. You can browse the inventory, add things to desire lists, get sales notifications and order things directly from the app. It's not as good as the iOS version. For example, the iOS version allows you to monitor your order much better than the Android version. However, developers are processing those types of problems. It's a good place to surf for various beauty items to compliment any liberation you think you want to wear. The prices are a bit high, but such is the pain of makeup. Price: free / $ 10 to the monthepsy is another App Store similar to Hush. You can browse and buy makeup, brushes, various skin care products, nail enamels and other beauty and care products. IPSY stands out with an IPSY bag of $ 10 per month. It is a small assortment of semi-randomized beauty products in a small make-up bag. Pay $ 10 a month and sends to your door. The app also includes video content from Ipsy creators, including the founder Michelle Phan. This is an excellent and inclusive app that sells trick, small casual stuff bags and tons of videos with beauty suggestions, makeup application tutorials and things like that. It is a type of all-in-one fashion app. Pinterest is another large app for ideas. People publish all kinds of things on Pinterest. Sometimes, this includes new fashion trends, ideas for homemade objects and a kind of stuff a little. Pin things you like your profile for future reference. It is an app about social media with a variety of sharing features. So, it's really easy to use friends. So so, using it alone is not a bad experience by any means. The app is entirely free and many other apps integrate directly with it. It's a good place to see what tents are in the fashion community and even a good point to find those rare gems. Poshmark is another more popular fashion apps. It's online online Similar to sites like Craigslist or eBay. People sell cloths, shoes or other fashion items on the service. It is beautiful both for the purchase and for sale. You can get rid of clothes that have not worked or you don't need it. Meanwhile, those looking for that fashion can choose a new dress from your old wardrobe. Sales fees are a bit steep and some people can overtoose their fashion objects a little. However, from and great, it's a fun site to hit and you can find the occasional good deal on some rather clean items. Joe Hindy / Android AuthoritySephora is a famous beauty store. Bring things like trick, nail polish, skin care products and various types of beauty tools. He is not terribly different from Hush or Ipsy. The app itself is actually rather decent. You can take a selfie and upload it to the app. From there, you can practically try the trick in various shades to see if it works with the skin color, eye color, etc. This is good news because Sephora has many options. Furthermore, the app includes beauty suggestions, some hair things, some fragrance things and a guide for the search of gifts. Customers also earn awards after purchases. The place is really expensive, but even makeup is really good. Again, such is the pain of makeup. Joe Hindy / Android Shen authority is an online market for fashion things. Sell women's clothing, men's clothing, and even children's clothing. There are also shoes, accessories and other things as well. Some other features include flash sales, 24-hour customer support, 7 days a week and free shipping with orders over $ 49. It is a total solid experience with lots of clothes, styles and different clothes including choose. The company also seems to have its customer service on the point for collected buyers. Tumblr is another social media service with good fashion things. You can fundamentally follow what you want. It obviously includes fashion. There are some popular fashion personalities on the site along with some hobbyists and other types of people. It is also a good point to find objects to nature, fashion ideas and new fashion trends. Of course, there are also beauty tips, tutorials and various other learning tools as well. It can be a pain to find, but there are many blogs on the service. Reddit is another decent app with strong beauty and a fashion community. Just navigate in the sub-parents until you find what you want. Sometimes it doesn't concern the search for new things, but by ordering what you have. Your wardrobe can help you with this. It helps you organize your closet for an easy organization and help you choose clothes a little more easily. You can take pictures of your articles and end up in the app. Then choose the upper part, bottom and the accessories for your outfit from the app instead of overturning through your closet. There is not a lot of fashion apps outside they do things like this. Your closet is only among the most competent. You can add an unlimited number of cloths, change your things, categorize your clothes and even search for color. As far as we can say, the app is completely free without advertising or in-app purchases. Price: free / $ 12.99 Per month Laube is a kind of obvious choice for fashion apps. There are tons of fashion people, bloggers, personalities and other types on YouTube. It's a good place to see the latest fashions, listen to the discussion and more. There is also the occasional live stream of a fashion event. Even beauty and fashion are seriously popular. There isn't much more to say, really. YouTube is simply a must. You can pay $ 12.99 a month to remove ads, download videos for later, and play videos in the background while doing other things. Of course, you can Your favorite personalities on Facebook, Twitter, Instagram and other platforms as well. No selection of fashion apps is complete without shop app. Most department stores, specialty shops, national chains and other types of clothing, clothing, And jewelry stores have an online presence. We do not have a definitive list of what it does or does not have an app. So you may need to search for your favorites alone. However, mobile apps usually have a larger inventory, the ability to buy online sales for mobile app users. You probably already have some of these downloaded and this is a good thing.
