

Continue

Summary To kickstart your online teaching career you will need to be qualified, at minimum, via an accredited Level 3 TEFL course. Other requirements, depending on the company, may include having a bachelor's degree, being a native English speaker or high level of fluency and other companies may require teaching experience. From teaching and teenagers, to students and company staff, there are plenty of teaching opportunities to teach English online. For starters, you can expect to earn between $12 $15 per hour and this can go as high as $50 per hour for more experienced teachers. Teaching English online has taken the world by storm. It has opened up the world of language teaching and instruction to many more people than before. And while you might think the industry is saturated already, the truth is the desire to learn English is only getting more popular.Lets talk about why you should teach English online right now, how you can teach English online and most importantly what you can earn teaching English online.Lets do this. Why teach English online? Teaching English online is the very definition of flexible.Want to teach English from your moms couch? You can do that.Keen on teaching English to Taiwanese toddlers while youre in Thailand? No problem. Are you a night owl whod rather burn the midnight oil? Absolutely.Teaching English online is having such a moment because you can teach who you want, when you want, from wherever you want (provided you have an internet connection, of course).Its a great option if you're looking to earn extra money to supplement your income or support yourself while travelling. Its also ideal if you want to be your own boss.It provides you with an income without the inconvenience of commuting or expensive set-up costs. And you can work in your yoga pants! How to qualify to teach English online The bottom line when it comes to qualifying to teach English online is this:Get TEFL certified!To kickstart your online teaching career you will need to be qualified, at minimum, with an accredited Level 3 TEFL course.You can teach students online without a degree and without any teaching experience, but a TEFL qualification is your ticket to TEFL success.Even native English speakers benefit from a TEFL course. Speaking a language is not the same as teaching it. A TEFL course gives you the essential teaching skills you need to be an effective teacher. You need a TEFL course to prepare you to plan lessons, understand theories of learning, get a grasp of effective teaching techniques, learn how to assess students and so much more.Note: Some online companies have their own requirements for teaching with them:Bachelors degree: Some require a Bachelors degree but this can be a degree in any field.Language fluency: If you're not a native English speaker, you might need to show that your English is at level C1 on the CEFR (Advanced) or higher.Teaching experience: Teaching experience is sometimes preferred but there are many jobs that dont require it.If you dont have a degree or teaching experience and you really want to help yourself stand out from the crowd, be sure to write a kick-ass CV which showcases all your relevant skills and qualifications.If you want another secret weapon, you could also look at doing one of our Top-Up Courses to give you the extra edge. When you sign up for a Level 3 120-hour TEFL course or a Level 5 168-hour TEFL course with The TEFL Academy, you're given access to Teaching Business English, Teaching Young Learners, and Teaching Online and 1:1 absolutely free! What TEFL certification do I need to teach English online? We recommend a Level 5 TEFL course but not just any Level 5 TEFL course!Be wary of choosing a TEFL course which sounds too good to be true. Unfortunately there are some TEFL course providers who are happy to take your money and run, leaving you with a worthless piece of paper.Your TEFL course should be worth your time and money. It can be easy to fall for the cheap-as-chips options but we say, why? When you can do a Level 5 TEFL course with The TEFL Academy/Our top tips for choosing a good TEFL course:Accreditation: Make sure its accredited, reputable and internationally recognised.Comprehensive content: The TEFL course has to be at least 120 hours. It should be a comprehensive course which covers everything you need to know about teaching English as a foreign language.Expert support: There should be a team of qualified experts waiting to assist you with any technical or academic issues you might have.Testimonials and reviews: It should have good reviews from recent graduates.Value for money: Dont be tempted by the lowest priced TEFL courses ($1,000). Look for value while keeping an eye on your budget.The TEFL Academics Level 5 TEFL Diploma is internationally recognised, regulated by Ofqual (UK government), accredited by Qualifi, and approved by the DEAC (U.S. Department of Education recognised awarding body).We were the worlds first TEFL course provider to have received official recognition from government-regulated awarding bodies both in the USA and the UK!Our team of tutors are experienced TEFL teachers. We know what were talking about! And we are just a click away to help you with any questions or queries you have during the course.But you dont have to believe what we say. Check out our online reviews and testimonials of The TEFL Academy graduates and youll see just how awesome they think we are.But lets get back to business. What types of teaching English online jobs are available? Teaching English online jobs can see you teaching all ages, nationalities and English levels, from kindergarten to pensioner, from Brazilian to Bahranian, and from Absolute Beginner to Advanced.Teaching English online can mean teaching General English, Business English, English for Exams, English for Specific Purposes or a wealth of other options.Online lessons can be 1:1 or group lessons.Online English teachers can choose to work with an online company, a freelance platform, or go completely independent. What type of students can I teach online? Knowing what types of students you may encounter in your teaching journey can help you prepare better for your future classes. From Young Learners to adult professionals, students have varying levels of proficiency and learning objectives. Here are different types of students you may teach online:1. Young learners and teenagers: Younger students can be as young as six years old, or you could teach 18 year-olds. You could have a Beginner teen or an Advanced 10 year-old!2. Adults: More and more adults are turning to online learning to improve their English. This might be in place of face-to-face lessons or to complement other English classes:3. Students: Some learners require a certain score in an English exam in order to study at an English-medium institution, or for immigration purposes. These learners are generally highly motivated:4. In-company: Many companies, especially international ones, require their staff to speak English. As the lingua franca of international business, English is great for customer service roles too. What type of English can I teach online? The type of English you teach will depend on your students and their preferences:1. General or conversational English: This involves supporting students to improve their fluency in general everyday settings, without a clearly defined outcome such as an exam.2. Business English: Business English covers topics like making presentations, writing emails, negotiating and proposals.3. English for exams: There is one end goal in mind here passing an exam. Your students are all working towards this common goal so they are often more motivated and eager to succeed. What technology do I need to teach English online? Anyone can be an online English teacher, but to be a successful and effective online teacher there are some requirements when it comes to equipment. In terms of technology, youll need:A laptop/desktop computerA stable internet connectionA decent internet speed (at least 10 Mbps download/upload)A headset and microphoneYour internet connection and speed can be tested online. Its a good idea to do this before you start applying for online teaching jobs as many employers ask for evidence of a good internet speed.Many of our online English teachers recommend getting an external webcam and extra lighting to ensure a good overall experience for your students. This is what will keep them coming back for more!Besides technical equipment, online TEFL teachers need a quiet space where they can work free from distractions like ringing doorbells or crying babies.Good lighting is a must, while a whiteboard is a nice-to-have but not essential. A few classroom props like a map, soft toy or flashcards can come in handy but this depends on your students. Your Japanese CEO might not appreciate Fluffy as much as 6 year-old Sergio!One last thing youll need is a method to receive payment, like PayPal. Once youre all set, youre ready for your first online lesson. What salary can I make as an online English teacher? For starters, you can expect to earn between $12 $15 per hour and this can go as high as $50 per hour for more experienced teachers.The beauty of online teaching work is that you can earn as much or as little as you want. This is mostly because you can work as many hours as you can. As an independent online teacher you can even set your own rate so youre really in control of your income.Bear in mind that if you work for an online company, they will take a commission every lesson. However, they arent taking a commission on your behalf, so you can keep your earnings going up!How to find online English teaching jobs The first step is to identify what kind of online teaching job you want. In other words, decide if you want to work for an online company or be an independent online English teacher.Online English teaching companyIf you choose to work for an online company, the difficulty is choosing which one!1. Understand their requirements: Have a look at the different requirements of the different companies, fill out an application form or send through your CV and catch up on Netflix while you wait to hear from them:2. Sign up for more than one: A handy tip from The TEFL Academy tutors is to sign up with more than one company provided its not against company policy. This way, you have more chances of getting students:3. Upload an introductory video: If you sign up with an online platform, youll need to upload a (friggin amazing) introductory video or demo lesson to advertise your lessons to students. But once youve done the hard work, its up to your students to find you.FreelancingIf you choose to go the independent online English teacher route, there is a bit more elbow grease involved. Youll need to think about marketing yourself online because you wont have the benefit of students-on-demand that a company would provide. Here are some considerations:1. Create an online presence: This can be done quite easily on Facebook, Instagram, TikTok, and even on LinkedIn. If youre a little tech-savvy you can quickly throw together a website to show off your dazzling smile, sparkling personality and of course your excellent teaching style:2. Set your rates: As an independent online English teacher, youll need to decide how much youll charge for your services. Do some research to see what other independent teachers are charging and set a competitive rate. Its important to consider your qualifications, experience, and the value you bring to your students when determining your rates:3. Lesson materials: As an independent online English teacher, you wont have the benefit of lesson materials provided by online companies. However, there are many resources available online to help you plan lessons like a pro, so theres no need to panic! Is teaching online still in demand? Teaching online is absolutely still in demand.The convenience and flexibility of online learning means its becoming more popular with both teachers and students. The recent surge in interest in online learning shows no sign of slowing down and is only increasing with every year. More and more learners are realising the benefits of online learning, which means more and more online teaching jobs.But the same can be said of online English teachers! In other words, the boom in online learning has meant a boom in TEFL teachers training to be online teachers. This is why its especially important that your TEFL qualification is up to scratch. Best places to teach English online If you choose to work for an online teaching platform, there are approximately 52,000 to choose from. Just kidding, but there are loads! Each company has its own requirements, expectations, application process, schedule and remuneration. Do some digging and find a company which suits your needs and your time zone!1. CamblyCambly doesnt require a degree or teaching experience. You teach English online on a 1:1 basis. The students are based all over the world so you can find students anywhere so you dont have to teach at the crack of dawn if you dont want to!Pay rates: You get paid per minute, which adds up to $10.20 an hour with Cambly and $12 an hour with Cambly Kids. You are paid weekly through PayPal.Minimum hours: You set your own schedule there are no minimum hours required to teach on Cambly.Teacher requirements: You dont need a degree or prior teaching experience. Native English speakers from the United States, Canada, UK, Ireland, South Africa, Australia, and New Zealand are preferred.Technical requirements: A laptop or computer with a webcam, a headset with a microphone, and a strong internet connection:2. EngooEngoo is an online platform for teachers to advertise their services. Students choose their teachers from a database and schedule a lesson. You dont need a degree or teaching experience but you must be at least 18 years old.As an Engoo teacher you teach 25-minute 1:1 lessons. Your students are all ages, mostly from Japan. Lesson materials are provided.Pay rates: Rates are $2.80 an hour for non-native speakers up to $10 an hour for native speakers, with performance-based incentives.Minimum hours: You set your own schedule there are no minimum hours required to teach on Engoo.Teacher requirements: You dont need a degree or prior teaching experience. Engoo hires native and non-native English speakers.Technical requirements: A laptop or computer with a webcam, a headset with a microphone, and a strong internet connection:3. FluentBEFluentBE is an online language school. Teachers who are native speakers of English and Advanced speakers of Hungarian, Czech, Polish, Portuguese and Spanish are preferred. Teachers must have at least one year teaching experience with foreign students.As a teacher with FluentBE you teach classes of up to 4 students, usually children, teens and adults from central Europe. The lessons are conversation-based and all materials and lesson plans are provided.Pay rates: Pay is from $7.50 to $12 an hour.Minimum hours: You set your own schedule there are no minimum hours required to teach on Engoo.Technical requirements: A laptop or computer with a webcam, a headset with a microphone, and a strong internet connection:4. Latin HireLatin Hire is more like an agency than an online school. They recruit teachers for other educational companies. The educational companies Latin Hire work with are mostly located in South America and they recruit teachers for subjects like English, Calculus, Chemistry, Physics, Statistics, Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry, Accounting, Finance and Economy.Pay rates: $7 $13 an hour.Minimum hours: You set your own schedule there are no minimum hours required to teach on Latin Hire.Teacher requirements: You dont need a degree or prior teaching experience. A TEFL certificate of 120 hours is recommended, but not required. Native and non-native speakers of English are hired, but some companies might prefer native English speakers.Technical requirements: A laptop or computer with a webcam, a headset with a microphone, and a strong internet connection:5. LingodaLingoda is one of the most popular language learning platforms online for adult learners. The classes are small, usually three to five students, or private 1:1 lessons. Lessons are taught on Zoom and teachers are provided with in-house materials, so lesson preparation is a breeze. You can set your own schedule; there are no minimum hours required.To teach with Lingoda you need to have a TEFL certificate, a C2 level of English, and two to three years of teaching experience.Pay rates: Teaching with Lingoda youll earn about $13 an hour.Minimum hours: The average Lingoda teacher teaches approximately 5-20 hours a week but your own timing is entirely up to you.Teacher requirements: You need 2-3 years of prior teaching experience. Youll also need C2 or above level of the language you would like to teach.Technical requirements: A laptop or computer with a webcam, a headset with a microphone, and a strong internet connection:6. PreplyWith Preply, you create a profile with an introductory video, upload it to the platform and students contact you directly. Lessons are an hour long.As a Preply teacher, you set your own rates. Preply takes a 100% commission from your first lesson, but the commission decreases with each lesson.Pay rates: $10 $45 an hour. Preply takes commission on every class you teach. The more hours you teach, the less commission is charged, on a sliding scale.Minimum hours: You have to teach a minimum of 8 hours a week.Teacher requirements: You dont need a degree or prior teaching experience. Native English speakers are preferred but not required.Technical requirements: A laptop or computer with a webcam, a headset with a microphone, and a strong internet connection:7. VerblingVerbling has over 10,000 tutors on its platform, including teachers of English, Spanish, French and other languages. Students choose to book a lesson with a teacher and this is conducted 1:1 on video chat.Teachers set their own schedules and their own rates. To teach with Verbling you need to have teaching experience and preferably a teaching qualification.Pay rates: Teachers set their own hourly tutoring rates individually.Minimum hours: Teachers can teach an unlimited amount of private sessions on Verbling.Teacher requirements: Teachers need to have previous experience teaching their target language to speakers of other languages.Technical requirements: You need a laptop or desktop computer with a camera and microphone, the Google Chrome browser, and a strong internet connection:8. iTutorITutorGroup is a Taiwanese and Chinese company. You teach children or adults (often business professionals) from China, Japan and Taiwan. All teaching materials are provided.Teachers need a Bachelors degree, a TEFL certificate or equivalent and at least 1 year teaching experience. Payment is in your local currency and it will increase the more you teach and the better your student reviews are. Rates start from about $10; some teachers have been known to make $30 an hour. Start your online teaching journey Whether youre looking for a new career or a side gig to earn some extra moolah, teaching English online is a good idea. There is no better time than now to get involved in teaching English online.At minimum youll need a Level 3 TEFL course to get started, but we highly recommend considering a Level 5 TEFL course to give you an edge in the competitive online teaching market. With a Level 5 Combined TEFL course, youll have the advantage of a practical teaching component, which will prepare you for the real-life challenges of teaching English online.So, what are you waiting for? Start your journey to becoming an online English teacher today!READ MORE:11 Best Places To Teach English Online With No Degree [2024]9 Best Places To Teach English Online With No Experience Can you teach English online with no experience?Well, teaching English online is a great way to get experience (and put your TEFL certificate to good use if you have one)!Good news! Many online English teaching jobs let you teach online with no experience!It gets better: There are tons of platforms out there that let online teachers make a nice wage teaching online. And youll have full control over your schedule and get to work from home.So, if youre a fluent/English speaker looking to make extra income or get teaching experience, becoming an online ESL teacher could be the perfect gig for you!We found 11 companies that will hire you without any experience. Plus, well provide pay rates and schedule expectations, so you can start applying to teach English online today.CamblyVIPKidGoGoKidPalfishMagic EarsWhales EnglishOKidsTopic NativeLandi EnglishSkimaTalk1. CamblyCambly pays fluent English speakers to have short, 20-minute conversations with adult ESL students located around the world.The platform mainly hires tutors from the United States, Canada, U.K., Australia and a few other English-speaking countries.As an online ESL teaching platform, Cambly is a fun, low-pressure way to chat with language learners in a casual environment and assist them with their English skills.Pay: As a Cambly tutor, you earn $0.17 USD per minute, which evens out to $10.20 USD per hour. Every Monday, youll receive your weekly payment over PayPal.Hours: Working for Cambly, you set your hours and schedule, allowing you total flexibility. Simply log in whenever you have time on your hands to chat with students and receive payment. You can also offer a 6-month commitment package for a reduced rate. VIPKidVIPKid is a leading online teaching platform. VIPKid hires native English speakers to teach English to young children. Youll need to have a TEFL certificate and a minimum of 1 year teaching experience. You also need to complete an interview and a demo lesson. If VIPKid likes what they see, they invite you to sign a 6-month contract with them.Pay: VIPKid teachers earn $14-22 USD per hour and receive payment between the 10th and 15th of every month.Just remember, your hourly rate will set by the skills demonstrated in the interview and demo lesson. The good news is that every time your contract is up for renewal, you can negotiate a raise.Hours: While English teachers schedule their hours on VIPKid, the company suggests that you set your availability when students wont be asleep or in school, based on Beijing standard time. Youre also required to submit your weekly availability a month in advance:3. GoGoKidConnect with students all over China as an online GoGoKid teacher. GoGoKid offers 1-1 virtual teaching sessions based on American English and the Chinese standard curriculum. The students youll teach are around ages 4-12, so its a bonus if youre good with kids!This platform doesnt require prior teaching experience, but teaching experience is preferred.Dont worry if you dont. If you have any experience with children (think babysitting or camp counseling), that should work too. Highlight this on your application!Qualifications wise, as long as you have a bachelors degree and have/are willing to get a TEFL certificate, youll be good.Looking to make good money as an online English teacher? Then youll love to hear about GoGoKids great wage and incentives.Pay: You can earn up to $25 USD per hour! GoGoKid also offers incentives for referrals, peak time teaching, holidays and hosting mini-workshops. Plus, they almost always have sign-up incentives.Hours: You choose your schedule. Each class needs to be 25 minutes in length, but each class slot is for 30 mins, giving you a 5 min buffer between sessions. The hours are similar to all other peak teaching jobs in China: 7-9 pm on weekdays and 9 am-9 pm on weekends:4. PalfishPalfish is an on-the-go teachers, the app Palfish is an excellent option.Available to use on both iOS (Apple) and Android (Google Play) smartphones, Palfish connects Chinese students of varying ages and English levels with native teachers. As you broadcast, the app interface is written in both Mandarin and English.Palfish allows ESL students to phone you whenever they want, whenever you have time on your hands to chat with students and receive payment. During the call, you can teach them a short lesson using pre-made slides or simply have a conversation.Or teachers can opt to conduct one-on-one conversations or broadcast to a small group of up to 6 students.While Palfish recommends that its ESL teachers have a TEFL certificate, its not mandatory. And the company also doesnt discriminate non-fluent English speakers from becoming teachers.Pay: ESL teachers on Palfish also set their own pay rates. The payment average is around $10 USD to $18 USD per hour, but many successful instructors can charge $30 USD or more per hour. Palfish does take a 20% cut, so set your rates accordingly, and they pay through Payoner (an alternative to PayPal).Hours: One of the nice things about Palfish is its complete flexibility. You can use it when you want, where you want, and as much as you wantall the company requests is a four-hour commitment per week:5. Magic EarsMagic Ears is a kid-friendly platform that pairs Chinese children with an ESL teacher. If you enjoy interacting with children, youll be great for this opportunity.As an English teacher for Magic Ears, you teach a group of four children who will be between the ages of 4 to 12.The only thing is you must be a fluent English speaker from the U.S.A. or Canada and hold a bachelors degree to qualify for a position.The great thing is that no prior teaching experience is needed. The company provides online training sessions for its new ESL teachers.The application process to Magic Ears is very similar to VIPKid.Applicants are required to present a demo lesson, along with a filmed interview, and pass a background check. If your application is successful, the company asks you to sign a 6-month contract.Pay: At Magic Ears, English teachers earn $19-26 USD per hour and are paid on the 10th of every month through PayPal.Hours: You can choose your own schedule, but youll need to have a minimum of 10 hours per week to be eligible for payment:6. Whales EnglishWhales English is a leading online teaching platform. Whales English hires native English speakers to teach English to young children. Youll need to have a TEFL certificate and a minimum of 1 year teaching experience. You also need to complete an interview and a demo lesson. If Whales English likes what they see, they invite you to sign a 6-month contract with them.Pay: Whales English teachers earn $14-22 USD per hour and receive payment between the 10th and 15th of every month.Just remember, your hourly rate will set by the skills demonstrated in the interview and demo lesson. The good news is that every time your contract is up for renewal, you can negotiate a raise.Hours: While English teachers schedule their hours on VIPKid, the company suggests that you set your availability when students wont be asleep or in school, based on Beijing standard time. Youre also required to submit your weekly availability a month in advance:3. GoGoKidConnect with students all over China as an online GoGoKid teacher. GoGoKid offers 1-1 virtual teaching sessions based on American English and the Chinese standard curriculum. The students youll teach are around ages 4-12, so its a bonus if youre good with kids!This platform doesnt require prior teaching experience, but teaching experience is preferred.Dont worry if you dont. If you have any experience with children (think babysitting or camp counseling), that should work too. Highlight this on your application!Qualifications wise, as long as you have a bachelors degree and have/are willing to get a TEFL certificate, youll be good.Looking to make good money as an online English teacher? Then youll love to hear about GoGoKids great wage and incentives.Pay: You can earn up to $25 USD per hour! GoGoKid also offers incentives for referrals, peak time teaching, holidays and hosting mini-workshops. Plus, they almost always have sign-up incentives.Hours: You choose your schedule. Each class needs to be 25 minutes in length, but each class slot is for 30 mins, giving you a 5 min buffer between sessions. The hours are similar to all other peak teaching jobs in China: 7-9 pm on weekdays and 9 am-9 pm on weekends:4. PalfishPalfish is an on-the-go teachers, the app Palfish is an excellent option.Available to use on both iOS (Apple) and Android (Google Play) smartphones, Palfish connects Chinese students of varying ages and English levels with native teachers. As you broadcast, the app interface is written in both Mandarin and English.Palfish allows ESL students to phone you whenever they want, whenever you have time on your hands to chat with students and receive payment. During the call, you can teach them a short lesson using pre-made slides or simply have a conversation.Or teachers can opt to conduct one-on-one conversations or broadcast to a small group of up to 6 students.While Palfish recommends that its ESL teachers have a TEFL certificate, its not mandatory. And the company also doesnt discriminate non-fluent English speakers from becoming teachers.Pay: ESL teachers on Palfish also set their own pay rates. The payment average is around $10 USD to $18 USD per hour, but many successful instructors can charge $30 USD or more per hour. Palfish does take a 20% cut, so set your rates accordingly, and they pay through Payoner (an alternative to PayPal).Hours: One of the nice things about Palfish is its complete flexibility. You can use it when you want, where you want, and as much as you wantall the company requests is a four-hour commitment per week:5. Magic EarsMagic Ears is a kid-friendly platform that pairs Chinese children with an ESL teacher. If you enjoy interacting with children, youll be great for this opportunity.As an English teacher for Magic Ears, you teach a group of four children who will be between the ages of 4 to 12.The only thing is you must be a fluent English speaker from the U.S.A. or Canada and hold a bachelors degree to qualify for a position.The great thing is that no prior teaching experience is needed. The company provides online training sessions for its new ESL teachers.The application process to Magic Ears is very similar to VIPKid.Applicants are required to present a demo lesson, along with a filmed interview, and pass a background check. If your application is successful, the company asks you to sign a 6-month contract.Pay: At Magic Ears, English teachers earn $19-26 USD per hour and are paid on the 10th of every month through PayPal.Hours: You can choose your own schedule, but youll need to have a minimum of 10 hours per week to be eligible for payment:6. Whales EnglishWhales English is a leading online teaching platform. Whales English hires native English speakers to teach English to young children. Youll need to have a TEFL certificate and a minimum of 1 year teaching experience. You also need to complete an interview and a demo lesson. If Whales English likes what they see, they invite you to sign a 6-month contract with them.Pay: Whales English teachers earn $14-22 USD per hour and receive payment between the 10th and 15th of every month.Just remember, your hourly rate will set by the skills demonstrated in the interview and demo lesson. The good news is that every time your contract is up for renewal, you can negotiate a raise.Hours: While English teachers schedule their hours on VIPKid, the company suggests that you set your availability when students wont be asleep or in school, based on Beijing standard time. Youre also required to submit your weekly availability a month in advance:3. GoGoKidConnect with students all over China as an online GoGoKid teacher. GoGoKid offers 1-1 virtual teaching sessions based on American English and the Chinese standard curriculum. The students youll teach are around ages 4-12, so its a bonus if youre good with kids!This platform doesnt require prior teaching experience, but teaching experience is preferred.Dont worry if you dont. If you have any experience with children (think babysitting or camp counseling), that should work too. Highlight this on your application!Qualifications wise, as long as you have a bachelors degree and have/are willing to get a TEFL certificate, youll be good.Looking to make good money as an online English teacher? Then youll love to hear about GoGoKids great wage and incentives.Pay: You can earn up to $25 USD per hour! GoGoKid also offers incentives for referrals, peak time teaching, holidays and hosting mini-workshops. Plus, they almost always have sign-up incentives.Hours: You choose your schedule. Each class needs to be 25 minutes in length, but each class slot is for 30 mins, giving you a 5 min buffer between sessions. The hours are similar to all other peak teaching jobs in China: 7-9 pm on weekdays and 9 am-9 pm on weekends:4. PalfishPalfish is an on-the-go teachers, the app Palfish is an excellent option.Available to use on both iOS (Apple) and Android (Google Play) smartphones, Palfish connects Chinese students of varying ages and English levels with native teachers. As you broadcast, the app interface is written in both Mandarin and English.Palfish allows ESL students to phone you whenever they want, whenever you have time on your hands to chat with students and receive payment. During the call, you can teach them a short lesson using pre-made slides or simply have a conversation.Or teachers can opt to conduct one-on-one conversations or broadcast to a small group of up to 6 students.While Palfish recommends that its ESL teachers have a TEFL certificate, its not mandatory. And the company also doesnt discriminate non-fluent English speakers from becoming teachers.Pay: ESL teachers on Palfish also set their own pay rates. The payment average is around $10 USD to $18 USD per hour, but many successful instructors can charge $30 USD or more per hour. Palfish does take a 20% cut, so set your rates accordingly, and they pay through Payoner (an alternative to PayPal).Hours: One of the nice things about Palfish is its complete flexibility. You can use it when you want, where you want, and as much as you wantall the company requests is a four-hour commitment per week:5. Magic EarsMagic Ears is a kid-friendly platform that pairs Chinese children with an ESL teacher. If you enjoy interacting with children, youll be great for this opportunity.As an English teacher for Magic Ears, you teach a group of four children who will be between the ages of 4 to 12.The only thing is you must be a fluent English speaker from the U.S.A. or Canada and hold a bachelors degree to qualify for a position.The great thing is that no prior teaching experience is needed. The company provides online training sessions for its new ESL teachers.The application process to Magic Ears is very similar to VIPKid.Applicants are required to present a demo lesson, along with a filmed interview, and pass a background check. If your application is successful, the company asks you to sign a 6-month contract.Pay: At Magic Ears, English teachers earn $19-26 USD per hour and are paid on the 10th of every month through PayPal.Hours: You can choose your own schedule, but youll need to have a minimum of 10 hours per week to be eligible for payment:6. Whales EnglishWhales English is a leading online teaching platform. Whales English hires native English speakers to teach English to young children. Youll need to have a TEFL certificate and a minimum of 1 year teaching experience. You also need to complete an interview and a demo lesson. If Whales English likes what they see, they invite you to sign a 6-month contract with them.Pay: Whales English teachers earn $14-22 USD per hour and receive payment between the 10th and 15th of every month.Just remember, your hourly rate will set by the skills demonstrated in the interview and demo lesson. The good news is that every time your contract is up for renewal, you can negotiate a raise.Hours: While English teachers schedule their hours on VIPKid, the company suggests that you set your availability when students wont be asleep or in school, based on Beijing standard time. Youre also required to submit your weekly availability a month in advance:3. GoGoKidConnect with students all over China as an online GoGoKid teacher. GoGoKid offers 1-1 virtual teaching sessions based on American English and the Chinese standard curriculum. The students youll teach are around ages 4-12, so its a bonus if youre good with kids!This platform doesnt require prior teaching experience, but teaching experience is preferred.Dont worry if you dont. If you have any experience with children (think babysitting or camp counseling), that should work too. Highlight this on your application!Qualifications wise, as long as you have a bachelors degree and have/are willing to get a TEFL certificate, youll be good.Looking to make good money as an online English teacher? Then youll love to hear about GoGoKids great wage and incentives.Pay: You can earn up to $25 USD per hour! GoGoKid also offers incentives for referrals, peak time teaching, holidays and hosting mini-workshops. Plus, they almost always have sign-up incentives.Hours: You choose your schedule. Each class needs to be 25 minutes in length, but each class slot is for 30 mins, giving you a 5 min buffer between sessions. The hours are similar to all other peak teaching jobs in China: 7-9 pm on weekdays and 9 am-9 pm on weekends:4. PalfishPalfish is an on-the-go teachers, the app Palfish is an excellent option.Available to use on both iOS (Apple) and Android (Google Play) smartphones, Palfish connects Chinese students of varying ages and English levels with native teachers. As you broadcast, the app interface is written in both Mandarin and English.Palfish allows ESL students to phone you whenever they want, whenever you have time on your hands to chat with students and receive payment. During the call, you can teach them a short lesson using pre-made slides or simply have a conversation.Or teachers can opt to conduct one-on-one conversations or broadcast to a small group of up to 6 students.While Palfish recommends that its ESL teachers have a TEFL certificate, its not mandatory. And the company also doesnt discriminate non-fluent English speakers from becoming teachers.Pay: ESL teachers on Palfish also set their own pay rates. The payment average is around $10 USD to $18 USD per hour, but many successful instructors can charge $30 USD or more per hour. Palfish does take a 20% cut, so set your rates accordingly, and they pay through Payoner (an alternative to PayPal).Hours: One of the nice things about Palfish is its complete flexibility. You can use it when you want, where you want, and as much as you wantall the company requests is a four-hour commitment per week:5. Magic EarsMagic Ears is a kid-friendly platform that pairs Chinese children with an ESL teacher. If you enjoy interacting with children, youll be great for this opportunity.As an English teacher for Magic Ears, you teach a group of four children who will be between the ages of 4 to 12.The only thing is you must be a fluent English speaker from the U.S.A. or Canada and hold a bachelors degree to qualify for a position.The great thing is that no prior teaching experience is needed. The company provides online training sessions for its new ESL teachers.The application process to Magic Ears is very similar to VIPKid.Applicants are required to present a demo lesson, along with a filmed interview, and pass a background check. If your application is successful, the company asks you to sign a 6-month contract.Pay: At Magic Ears, English teachers earn $19-26 USD per hour and are paid on the 10th of every month through PayPal.Hours: You can choose your own schedule, but youll need to have a minimum of 10 hours per week to be eligible for payment:6. Whales EnglishWhales English is a leading online teaching platform. Whales English hires native English speakers to teach English to young children. Youll need to have a TEFL certificate and a minimum of 1 year teaching experience. You also need to complete an interview and a demo lesson. If Whales English likes what they see, they invite you to sign a 6-month contract with them.Pay: Whales English teachers earn $14-22 USD per hour and receive payment between the 10th and 15th of every month.Just remember, your hourly rate will set by the skills demonstrated in the interview and demo lesson. The good news is that every time your contract is up for renewal, you can negotiate a raise.Hours: While English teachers schedule their hours on VIPKid, the company suggests that you set your availability when students wont be asleep or in school, based on Beijing standard time. Youre also required to submit your weekly availability a month in advance:3. GoGoKidConnect with students all over China as an online GoGoKid teacher. GoGoKid offers 1-1 virtual teaching sessions based on American English and the Chinese standard curriculum. The students youll teach are around ages 4-12, so its a bonus if youre good with kids!This platform doesnt require prior teaching experience, but teaching experience is preferred.Dont worry if you dont. If you have any experience with children (think babysitting or camp counseling), that should work too. Highlight this on your application!Qualifications wise, as long as you have a bachelors degree and have/are willing to get a TEFL certificate, youll be good.Looking to make good money as an online English teacher? Then youll love to hear about GoGoKids great wage and incentives.Pay: You can earn up to $25 USD per hour! GoGoKid also offers incentives for referrals, peak time teaching, holidays and hosting mini-workshops. Plus, they almost always have sign-up incentives.Hours: You choose your schedule. Each class needs to be 25 minutes in length, but each class slot is for 30 mins, giving you a 5 min buffer between sessions. The hours are similar to all other peak teaching jobs in China: 7-9 pm on weekdays and 9 am-9 pm on weekends:4. PalfishPalfish is an on-the-go teachers, the app Palfish is an excellent option.Available to use on both iOS (Apple) and Android (Google Play) smartphones, Palfish connects Chinese students of varying ages and English levels with native teachers. As you broadcast, the app interface is written in both Mandarin and English.Palfish allows ESL students to phone you whenever they want, whenever you have time on your hands to chat with students and receive payment. During the call, you can teach them a short lesson using pre-made slides or simply have a conversation.Or teachers can opt to conduct one-on-one conversations or broadcast to a small group of up to 6 students.While Palfish recommends that its ESL teachers have a TEFL certificate, its not mandatory. And the company also doesnt discriminate non-fluent English speakers from becoming teachers.Pay: ESL teachers on Palfish also set their own pay rates. The payment average is around $10 USD to $18 USD per hour, but many successful instructors can charge $30 USD or more per hour. Palfish does take a 20% cut, so set your rates accordingly, and they pay through Payoner (an alternative to PayPal).Hours: One of the nice things about Palfish is its complete flexibility. You can use it when you want, where you want, and as much as you wantall the company requests is a four-hour commitment per week:5. Magic EarsMagic Ears is a kid-friendly platform that pairs Chinese children with an ESL teacher. If you enjoy interacting with children, youll be great for this opportunity.As an English teacher for Magic Ears, you teach a group of four children who will be between the ages of 4 to 12.The only thing is you must be a fluent English speaker from the U.S.A. or Canada and hold a bachelors degree to qualify for a position.The great thing is that no prior teaching experience is needed. The company provides online training sessions for its new ESL teachers.The application process to Magic Ears is very similar to VIPKid.Applicants are required to present a demo lesson, along with a filmed interview, and pass a background check. If your application is successful, the company asks you to sign a 6-month contract.Pay: At Magic Ears, English teachers earn $19-26 USD per hour and are paid on the 10th of every month through PayPal.Hours: You can choose your own schedule, but youll need to have a minimum of 10 hours per week to be eligible for payment:6. Whales EnglishWhales English is a leading online teaching platform. Whales English hires native English speakers to teach English to young children. Youll need to have a TEFL certificate and a minimum of 1 year teaching experience. You also need to complete an interview and a demo lesson. If Whales English likes what they see, they invite you to sign a 6-month contract with them.Pay: Whales English teachers earn $14-22 USD per hour and receive payment between the 10th and 15th of every month.Just remember, your hourly rate will set by the skills demonstrated in the interview and demo lesson. The good news is that every time your contract is up for renewal, you can negotiate a raise.Hours: While English teachers schedule their hours on VIPKid, the company suggests that you set your availability when students wont be asleep or in school, based on Beijing standard time. Youre also required to submit your weekly availability a month in advance:3. GoGoKidConnect with students all over China as an online GoGoKid teacher. GoGoKid offers 1-1 virtual teaching sessions based on American English and the Chinese standard curriculum. The students youll teach are around ages 4-12, so its a bonus if youre good with kids!This platform doesnt require prior teaching experience, but teaching experience is preferred.Dont worry if you dont. If you have any experience with children (think babysitting or camp counseling), that should work too. Highlight this on your application!Qualifications wise, as long as you have a bachelors degree and have/are willing to get a TEFL certificate, youll be good.Looking to make good money as an online English teacher? Then youll love to hear about GoGoKids great wage and incentives.Pay: You can earn up to $25 USD per hour! GoGoKid also offers incentives for referrals, peak time teaching, holidays and hosting mini-workshops. Plus, they almost always have sign-up incentives.Hours: You choose your schedule. Each class needs to be 25 minutes in length, but each class slot is for 30 mins, giving you a 5 min buffer between sessions. The hours are similar to all other peak teaching jobs in China: 7-9 pm on weekdays and 9 am-9 pm on weekends:4. PalfishPalfish is an on-the-go teachers, the app Palfish is an excellent option.Available to use on both iOS (Apple) and Android (Google Play) smartphones, Palfish connects Chinese students of varying ages and English levels with native teachers. As you broadcast, the app interface is written in both Mandarin and English.Palfish allows ESL students to phone you whenever they want, whenever you have time on your hands to chat with students and receive payment. During the call, you can teach them a short lesson using pre-made slides or simply have a conversation.Or teachers can opt to conduct one-on-one conversations or broadcast to a small group of up to 6 students.While Palfish recommends that its ESL teachers have a TEFL certificate, its not mandatory. And the company also doesnt discriminate non-fluent English speakers from becoming teachers.Pay: ESL teachers on Palfish also set their own pay rates. The payment average is around $10 USD to $18 USD per hour, but many successful instructors can charge $30 USD or more per hour. Palfish does take a 20% cut, so set your rates accordingly, and they pay through Payoner (an alternative to PayPal).Hours: One of the nice things about Palfish is its complete flexibility. You can use it when you want, where you want, and as much as you wantall the company requests is a four-hour commitment per week:5. Magic EarsMagic Ears is a kid-friendly platform that pairs Chinese children with an ESL teacher. If you enjoy interacting with children, youll be great for this opportunity.As an English teacher for Magic Ears, you teach a group of four children who will be between the ages of 4 to 12.The only thing is you must be a fluent English speaker from the U.S.A. or Canada and hold a bachelors degree to qualify for a position.The great thing is that no prior teaching experience is needed. The company provides online training sessions for its new ESL teachers.The application process to Magic Ears is very similar to VIPKid.Applicants are required to present a demo lesson, along with a filmed interview, and pass a background check. If your application is successful, the company asks you to sign a 6-month contract.Pay: At Magic Ears, English teachers earn $19-26 USD per hour and are paid on the 10th of every month through PayPal.Hours: You can choose your own schedule, but youll need to have a minimum of 10 hours per week to be eligible for payment:6. Whales EnglishWhales English is a leading online teaching platform. Whales English hires native English speakers to teach English to young children. Youll need to have a TEFL certificate and a minimum of 1 year teaching experience. You also need to complete an interview and a demo lesson. If Whales English likes what they see, they invite you to sign a 6-month contract with them.Pay: Whales English teachers earn $14-22 USD per hour and receive payment between the 10th and 15th of every month.Just remember, your hourly rate will set by the skills demonstrated in the interview and demo lesson. The good news is that every time your contract is up for renewal, you can negotiate a raise.Hours: While English teachers schedule their hours on VIPKid, the company suggests that you set your availability when students wont be asleep or in school, based on Beijing standard time. Youre also required to submit your weekly availability a month in advance:3. GoGoKidConnect with students all over China as an online GoGoKid teacher. GoGoKid offers 1-1 virtual teaching sessions based on American English and the Chinese standard curriculum. The students youll teach are around ages 4-12, so its a bonus if youre good with kids!This platform doesnt require prior teaching experience, but teaching experience is preferred.Dont worry if you dont. If you have any experience with children (think babysitting or camp counseling), that should work too. Highlight this on your application!Qualifications wise, as long as you have a bachelors degree and have/are willing to get a TEFL certificate, youll be good.Looking to make good money as an online English teacher? Then youll love to hear about GoGoKids great wage and incentives.Pay: You can earn up to $25 USD per hour! GoGoKid also offers incentives for referrals, peak time teaching, holidays and hosting mini-workshops. Plus, they almost always have sign-up incentives.Hours: You choose your schedule. Each class needs to be 25 minutes in length, but each class slot is for 30 mins, giving you a 5 min buffer between sessions. The hours are similar to all other peak teaching jobs in China: 7-9 pm on weekdays and 9 am-9 pm on weekends:4. PalfishPalfish is an on-the-go teachers, the app Palfish is an excellent option.Available to use on both iOS (Apple) and Android (Google Play) smartphones, Palfish connects Chinese students of varying ages and English levels with native teachers. As you broadcast, the app interface is written in both Mandarin and English.Palfish allows ESL students to phone you whenever they want, whenever you have time on your hands to chat with students and receive payment. During the call, you can teach them a short lesson using pre-made slides or simply have a conversation.Or teachers can opt to conduct one-on-one conversations or broadcast to a small group of up to 6 students.While Palfish recommends that its ESL teachers have a TEFL certificate, its not mandatory. And the company also doesnt discriminate non-fluent English speakers from becoming teachers.Pay: ESL teachers on Palfish also set their own pay rates. The payment average is around $10 USD to $18 USD per hour, but many successful instructors can charge $30 USD or more per hour. Palfish does take a 20% cut, so set your rates accordingly, and they pay through Payoner (an alternative to PayPal).Hours: One of the nice things about Palfish is its complete flexibility. You can use it when you want, where you want, and as much as you wantall the company requests is a four-hour commitment per week:5. Magic EarsMagic Ears is a kid-friendly platform that pairs Chinese children with an ESL teacher. If you enjoy interacting with children, youll be great for this opportunity.As an English teacher for Magic Ears, you teach a group of four children who will be between the ages of 4 to 12.The only thing is you must be a fluent English speaker from the U.S.A. or Canada and hold a bachelors degree to qualify for a position.The great thing is that no prior teaching experience is needed. The company provides online training sessions for its new ESL teachers.The application process to Magic Ears is very similar to VIPKid.Applicants are required to present a demo lesson, along with a filmed interview, and pass a background check. If your application is successful, the company asks you to sign a 6-month contract.Pay: At Magic Ears, English teachers earn $19-26 USD per hour and are paid on the 10th of every month through PayPal.Hours: You can choose your own schedule, but youll need to have a minimum of 10 hours per week to be eligible for payment:6. Whales EnglishWhales English is a leading online teaching platform. Whales English hires native English speakers to teach English to young children. Youll need to have a TEFL certificate and a minimum of 1 year teaching experience. You also need to complete an interview and a demo lesson. If Whales English likes what they see, they invite you to sign a 6-month contract with them.Pay: Whales English teachers earn $14-22 USD per hour and receive payment between the 10th and 15th of every month.Just remember, your hourly rate will set by the skills demonstrated in the interview and demo lesson. The good news is that every time your contract is up for renewal, you can negotiate a raise.Hours: While English teachers schedule their hours on VIPKid, the company suggests that you set your availability when students wont be asleep or in school, based on Beijing standard time. Youre also required to submit your weekly availability a month in advance:3. GoGoKidConnect with students all over China as an online GoGoKid teacher. GoGoKid offers 1-1 virtual teaching sessions based on American English and the Chinese standard curriculum. The students youll teach are around ages 4-12, so its a bonus if youre good with kids!This platform doesnt require prior teaching experience, but teaching experience is preferred.Dont worry if you dont. If you have any experience with children (think babysitting or camp counseling), that should work too. Highlight this on your application!Qualifications wise, as long as you have a bachelors degree and have/are willing to get a TEFL certificate, youll be good.Looking to make good money as an online English teacher? Then youll love to hear about GoGoKids great wage and incentives.Pay: You can earn up to $25 USD per hour! GoGoKid also offers incentives for referrals, peak time teaching, holidays and hosting mini-workshops. Plus, they almost always have sign-up incentives.Hours: You choose your schedule. Each class needs to be 25 minutes in length, but each class slot is for 30 mins, giving you a 5 min buffer between sessions. The hours are similar to all other peak teaching jobs in China: 7-9 pm on weekdays and 9 am-9 pm on weekends:4. PalfishPalfish is an on-the-go teachers, the app Palfish is an excellent option.Available to use on both iOS (Apple) and Android (Google Play) smartphones, Palfish connects Chinese students of varying ages and English levels with native teachers. As you broadcast, the app interface is written in both Mandarin and English.Palfish allows ESL students to phone you whenever they want, whenever you have time on your hands to chat with students and receive payment. During the call, you can teach them a short lesson using pre-made slides or simply have a conversation.Or teachers can opt to conduct one-on-one conversations or broadcast to a small group of up to 6 students.While Palfish recommends that its ESL teachers have a TEFL certificate, its not mandatory. And the company also doesnt discriminate non-fluent English speakers from becoming teachers.Pay: ESL teachers on Palfish also set their own pay rates. The payment average is around $10 USD to $18 USD per hour, but many successful instructors can charge $30 USD or more per hour. Palfish does take a 20% cut, so set your rates accordingly, and they pay through Payoner (an alternative to PayPal).Hours: One of the nice things about Palfish is its complete flexibility. You can use it when you want, where you want, and as much as you wantall the company requests is a

How to find students to teach english online. How to apply to teach english online. How to teach english online free. How to teach english online to kids. How to teach english online abroad. How much does it pay to teach english online. How to teach english online pdf. How to teach english online and earn money. How to teach english online without a degree. How to teach english online with no experience. How to teach english online to foreign students. How to teach english online without tefl. How to teach english online in japan. How to teach english online in china. How to teach english online for money.