The four worksheets in PDF format below are about Filipino Personal Pronouns (pronouns). By distributing these worksheets for your students or children, but please do not do it for profit. 1. Miniature is lower than LINK FOR A PRINCIPLE PAGANO Word Search. Students are called to search for 23 Filipino personal pronouns. The illustration is by samusamot_mom. Click on the link below for the answer key: Answers to Word Search 1 pronouns. 2. Provide the correct pronoun that please 3; Responses for the Production of Pagalao 3 right: This 12-Items Sheet asks the student to write the appropriate Prickness Pangoo to complete the sentence. The pronouns used here are, yes, he, us, you, and them. THIS WORKSHET OPPORTUNS FOR FIRST STUDENTS. 3. Provide the correct pronoun that please 2, an answer to provide the correct pronoun that please 2a: This 15-Item Worksheet asks the student to write the appropriate Progress Pangoo to complete the sentence. 4. Reply and reply Panao 1; A Responses to Nagan and Pagalao Council 1: This 12-Item Foglio asks the student to DETERMINER the FREE NUMBER (Nagan) and grammar PERSONA. The Neue of A Banky is one of three: singular (singular), double (double), or plural (plural). A personal Pagado pipette is one of three: First, a person, referring to the Speaker / Speakers), Second Person, referring to the Person / People spoken), or in third person, referring to the person / PERSONE spoken of O CIRCA). I included only two processors dual First-Person PERSONAL PRONOMI: revenues and Kata. Although the word Kita is commonly thought as an equivalent to English The pronoun, The Up dictionary Filipino defines it as the shortest version of a € Oeko you. A € THOUGE IMPLICAKita refers to two people, the rapporteur and the person with which he spoke. Consider the sentence Å € ä,~ Å "Ingjig Kita. It can be reformulated as Å € ä,~ Å "inhibig ko ikawÅ € ä,~ (a phrase with the shape [verb] ko ikaw). The word Kita takes the place of two other ko and ikaw pronomes. In other dialects like Tagalog and Bikol, Kita is equivalent to "You and I.Å € ä,~" The word Kata is defined as Å € ä,~ Å "Tayong DalawaÅ € ä,~ Å € ä,~ Å" ikaw AKOÅ € ä,~ (you and I, to the two of us, or us). The two examples of the following are from Vicassan's Pillipino-English dictionary: kataÅ € ä,~ Å "€ y bugunta roon. (We'll go there.) Punta Kata Roon. (Let's go there.) Although Ikaw (You) is a second-person pronoun, both Kita and Kata are commonly characterized as first-person pronouns. The words Kanita and Nita are personal pronouns that indicate possession. They are not included in the last worksheet. Of the four mentioned pronouns, only Kita is commonly used in Filipino. The two PDF worksheets from 20 elements below ask the student to identify the grammatical person (Panauhan: one, ikalawa, or Ikatlo) and the grammatical number (Kailanan: Isahan, Dalawahan, or Maramihan) of the personal pronoun emphasized in each sentence. The third page of each file is the answer key. PANAUHAN A KAILAN NG PANGHALIP NA PANAO 2 PANAUHAN A KAILAN NG PANGHALIP NA PANAO 3 The PDF 20-element worksheet below asks the student to tell if the word underlined in the sentence is a pronoun Possessive (PANGHALIP NA PAARI) or modifier (paning) . The second file page is the response key. Modifiers PANGHALIP NA PAARI O PANING 1 which show the property of something are called Possive adjectives. The panel (modifier or adjective possessive) comes before or after the noun edit. Possive adjectives are adjectives, not pronouns. Ang Kanyang Sapatos Ay Bago.
