After thoroughly browsing Netflix, our team reviewed 20 different Japanese movies and rated them based on plot, direction and characters. After hours of Japanese cinema, we collected and put together this list of the best Japanese movies on Netflix.
Protagonists: Kippei Shina, Kyoto Hinaami |Director: Sion Sono |Editorial rating: 7/10Å
The first on our list is a story inspired by the series of murders and other crimes that have swept Kyushu, Japan, from the mid-1990s to the early 2000s. The Forest of Love is a thrilling crime thriller starring Kippei Shina as Joe Murata. The movie is based on the true story of Futoshi Matsunaga who was a serial killer. ✓ Definitely not for the faint of heart, this violent psychosexual movie is a must for all lovers of crime and thriller.

Would this list be complete without mentioning some anime movies? Anime movies will always be one of my favorite genres because in addition to animations, there is always a good moral to take away.A silent voice is based on Yoshitoki Oima's manga of the same name. The movie is about a bully who ends up being a social outcast. As she contemplates suicide, she decides to make up for her past. The film follows him as he befriends a woman His victims, a deaf girl. The film ends with a happy note with lessons to learn. To say that this film has touched my heart would not do him justice. 130 minutes
Release year: 2016
protagonists: Tatsuya Fujiwara, Aki Maeda `124|Director: Kinji Fukasaku `1244; Editor review: 8.5/10
Based on Koushan Takami's 1999 novel, Battle Royale is a pleasure for all of you film thriller comedy. The film revolves around a group of young high school students who have to fight to the death by the Japanese government. The film was initially banned in many countries and was the cause of many controversy. Even after twenty decades of his first publication, Battle Royale continues to be named as one of the most influential and best Japanese films ever made.

The series of Rurouni Kenshin films is really a piece of art. Rurouni Kenshin: The ending is a live action movie that is inspired by the last piece of the manga series with the same name. This is the fourth film in the series. The packed action film follows revenge fuelled battle between Himura Kenshin and Yukishiro Enishi. The film series was the first Japanese live action film invited to be screened at the Movie Franchise section of the Shanghai International Film Festival.
Main features: Execution time: 138 minutes

protagonist: Rumi Hiragi, Miyu Irino, Mari Natsuki `124|Director: Hayao Miyazaki `124|Evaluation of the editor: 9/10
Spirited Away will always be one of my favorite movies of all time. This film has emerged from the creative energies of Master Hayao Miyazaki and is the only Japanese animated film to have won the Best Animated Feature Oscar. The film is a story about Chihiro Ogino entering the spiritual world of Kami. Her parents are turned into pigs and cross paths with many mythical creatures while she discovers a way to change them. The film is a brilliant mix of Japanese folklore and modern culture. If you haven't seen it, you don't know what you're missing.
Main features: Execution time: 125 minutes
Release year: 2001
protagonists: Takuya Kimura `124|Register: Takashi Miike `1244|Vote of editor: 7/10
Basato Mango series by Hiroaki Samura. Blade of the Immortal is a samurai film rich in action. This film tells the story of an immortal samurai, Manji, and his with a young boy, Rin Asano, while seeking revenge against the people who killed the boy's parents. For those of you who love a good fighting scene and the concept of a dark hero, this film will be an absolute treatment.
Main features: Execution time: 141 minutes
Release year: 2017
protagonists: Mei Kayama `124|Director: Hikari `1244; Editor's Vote: 8/10
37 seconds is a story by Yuma Takada who is a 23-year-old artist with cerebral palsy. This film explores Yuma's journey to sexual freedom and personal discovery. This film is a great eye open to how society treats people with disabilities. It's good rhythm, and mixes souls with live action, which makes it a great choice for movie night.
Main features: Execution time: 115 minutes
